

d&b Electroacoustics seminar

Tony Lloyd

has broadened his knowledge by attending the d&b Electroacoustics seminar. He has examined the basic acoustic principles necessary for good sound system design and engineering, analysed the drawbacks and benefits of addition and subtraction of sound waves, understood system sizing, and defined the parameters that constitute a well-behaved loudspeaker. He has successfully explored the fundamentals of how to achieve good intelligible sound, to every seat in the house.

09/01/13

Oran Burns
Education and Application Support

A handwritten signature in white ink, appearing to read 'Oran Burns'. The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being significantly larger and more stylized than the rest of the text.