HIGH QUALITY PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEMS

Astralsound®

Why is audio important?

Audio is what music and speech are made of. If your audience can't hear what's going on or if the sound pressure is uncomfortable, you risk spoiling your event. Good sound is unobtrusive: no matter how large the space, it should feel as if the person speaking or singing is right next to you, with no microphones or loudspeakers in the way. And it's important that everybody can hear equally well at a comfortable sound level.

Thank you very much indeed for providing the sound system at the Church on Friday. People are still commenting on how beautifully clear the service was – even the children's voices

Astralsound can deliver the crispest, cleanest sound you'll hear. Many sound technicians can plug in a sound system and get some noise out of it. Not many understand sound dynamics and how to position microphones and loudspeakers so that the sound is crystal clear every time.

HIGH QUALITY PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEMS

Why is personal service important?

For your event to go smoothly, all the equipment needs to be in the right place at the right time. Astralsound will make sure that your sound system is with you in good time, that we can access the electrical power we need, and that we have leads and connectors for any eventuality, which means you don't have to worry and can concentrate on planning the rest of your event.

Just wanted to say thank you so, so much for being such a fantastic sound person! I really couldn't believe how you managed to slot everyone in without any fuss, changing everything around for such a range of acts. You really made it seem effortless but I know it was a lot of hard, and at times, wet work

Astralsound's equipment is well maintained and presented, ensuring that not only will your event sound good, it will look professional too.

Using a local business

Astralsound's reputation is important to us and much of our business comes from personal recommendations. We will offer support and advice to make your event run smoothly, and being locally-based we're just a short distance away should you need anything. And of course, there are important environmental and economic benefits to be gained from cutting down on transport costs and supporting the local economy.

Just wanted to thank you for a great service on Monday for our public meeting [with candidates for the Gloucestershire Police and Crime Commissioner election]. Everything worked fine and your expertise was much appreciated and it helped the event to run smoothly
